OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF AKRON.

TO TELEPHONE THE DEMOCRAT CALL
No. 180.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 7, 1900.

Be a good loser.

Maryland, My Maryland.

It's mostly all over but the shouting.

The Democrats are going to be good losers. Majority rules.

Hereafter the Democratic party will give the silent voter the right of way.

Mayor Jones and his non-partisan followers seem to have parted company.

The people were satisfied with existing conditions and they weren't very particular about who knew it.

The cause of sound money in the Akron district has triumphed by the election of a silver baron to Congress.

The silent voter broke the silence at last. Mr. Bryan's friends would be just as well satisfied if he hadn't spoken.

That landslide was all right, but it was headed the wrong way. Maybe the Democratic party's turn will come next.

Chairman Jones surprised his Democratic friends by the stolid confidence with which he claimed victory for his cause.

"Is the young man Absalom safe?" From the way Absalom voted he seemed to be rather indifferent about the matter.

Summit county's Democratic committee and its friends made a game fight and it wasn't their fault that they were defeated.

The result shows that Mr. Bryan was more popular with his countrymen than in 1896, when 6,500,000 votes were cast for him.

Yesterday's election shows that four of Akron's new wards are Democratic and four Republican. Akron's Council acted fairly when it redistricted the city.

According to the Administration papers the people voted for "a full pocket book and a full dinner pail." The Democrat sincerely hopes that they will get it.

Senator Pettigrew, the Populist Senator of South Dakota, goes down to defeat. Senator Hanna will claim especial credit for this result. He made speeches in South Dakota.

The Democrats made a gain of 93 in Senator Hanna's ward at Cleveland. It is more than evident that this is one of the places in which the Senator made no speeches.

The Hon. H. C. Sanford, Col. I. C. Gibbons, and a host of others have decided that the result is a vindication and a patent of their special qualifications for the office of Mayor.

The Akron papers gave the people all the news by bulletin last night, and it wasn't necessary for the people to go out of the city to get the news in the special editions this morning.

As the accommodating and complaisant Mr. Dobson used to say after the landslide: "If there's anything else Mr. Dick wants that he doesn't see, or sees that he doesn't want, let him ask for it."

If the plurality for the Republican ticket was more than a thousand in Summit county, it might have been tens of thousands had the Hon. H. C. Sanford been permitted by the local campaign committee to make speeches.

It will take the official count to decide whether or not Congressman Lentz is defeated. Gen. Dick and the Administration made a special fight against Mr. Lentz, and the fact that the result is still in doubt indicates that the Columbus Congressman made a vigorous fight.

Next to the defeat of Mr. Bryan, the defeat of the splendid candidates presented by the Democrats for county offices is most regretted by Summit county's Democrats. But no man, however popular, could have stood against the general landslide that swept the ticket the country over to defeat.

"Upon Col. Roosevelt," says the Cleveland Leader, "devolved the duty of making the speaking campaign for the party. He did magnificent work." But not a word of compliment has the Leader for that peerless orator, Mark. Were his services to the party so insignificant as to deserve no word of praise?

The boasts of the campaign managers had led the Democrats of Ohio to have great expectations of the result in the city of Cleveland. But the fact that Mr. Hanna carried that city for his ticket by the plurality of 250 shows the extent to which the claims of the opposition were founded upon imagination.

"Carry the news to Aggy," is the sneering comment some of the Administration organs are making on the result of yesterday's election. And while they are at it don't forget also to carry the news to Messrs. Rathbone and Neely. For them at least it means an undiminished right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Postmaster Elbright is one of the happiest Republicans in Akron, for we have it upon the authority of one of Col. W. T. Sawyer's delightful poems that—

"Whether Mac and Mark go up,
Or whether they go down,
Our Strick will peddle stamps and pills
To every man in town."

And Col. Sawyer was more than half right.

In his speech at Columbus last night Gen. Dick said: "If the American people have decided for militarism it is for a sufficient army and navy to preserve order at home and compel respect abroad." The next Congress will pass a measure making the increase of the standing army permanent. This is one of the policies upon which the people set the seal of approval yesterday and the Administration would be indifferent to its opportunities if it failed to act under its commission.

Now that the Administration party has won a great victory, it will find the people willing to aid it if it tries to bring prosperity to the people and honor to the government. Every citizen wants prosperity, but not all of them want it to be accompanied by conditions that in the past have been regarded even by the Republican party as dangerous to American institutions. But a majority of the people yesterday decided that they were in favor of existing conditions, and the obligation is upon the minority to concur gracefully in the verdict, until the time comes to reopen the great case.

It is yet too early to make an intelligent review of the causes that led to the liberal endorsement which the voters of American yesterday gave to the National Administration. The returns have not yet been compiled to the extent that will enable one to form an accurate estimate of the support that combined to give the splendid majority for the Administration party. But the feature of the result that at this time takes precedence over all others is the evident disposition to construe the verdict of the people as an endorsement of all their policies, and a high commission to pursue those policies to the end. If these policies are not satisfactory to the majority of the people there must be no complaint from the majority which decided in their favor.

Amusements

The Elmer E. Vance Comedy company will appear here Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon. Grand as was the mechanical effects of those two realistic pieces, "The Limited Mail" and "Patent Applied For" upon their last appearance here, they are this season even better. "The Limited Mail" has been enlarged, rejuvenated and rewritten. "Patent Applied For" is this year before the public with new dialogue, new music and a new company. During the summer vacation Manager Vance has completed many inventions and arrangements which he has had under consideration and thought for several years, and is surprising the public as well as pleasing them everywhere with his wonderful improvement.

The scenery for "The Limited Mail" and "Patent Applied For" has been entirely rebuilt and eight new and elaborate sets of scenery have been added for Manager Vance's wonderful production of his own version of Mrs. Southworth's famous novel, "The Hidden Hand." That magnetic little star, "Beatrice," is still with the company and has made a great hit in Manager Vance's latest production, a side-splitting comedy with Beatrice as its queen.

This is the first time the public has had a chance to witness these wonderful productions at popular prices.

LABOR PROBLEM

Has Been Successfully Solved by Elbert Hubbard.

To live for the joy of work, to make a play of every task, to bring the Fräbel spirit into commercial pursuits, to live each day's life with no fear of any man, no dread for the future, to treat employees as one would wish to be treated, to enrich the soul with the contemplation of beauty and in the effort to make things beautiful, this is the lesson Elbert Hubbard will teach Thursday night, in his lecture opening the College course.

Wherever Mr. Hubbard has appeared, he has left nothing but enthusiasm for the Roycrofters in his trail. It is the real enthusiasm of conviction, too, not the effervescent outburst of passing fancy. No one has appeared in Akron for many years to whom should be accorded better support, for any man who can sensibly, profitably and successfully solve the "labor problem," deserves to be received and heard with the highest esteem, and when such a happy solution is wedded to the highest ideals of the beautiful, the enthusiasm should be superlative.

It is therefore hoped that the citizens of Akron, all will show their esteem for such worthy effort. The College course, moreover, deserves the support of all lovers of culture and worth. It aims to bring before the people representative men, and through

ON THE ROAD

All the time, eating irregularly, sleeping irregularly, exposed to every disease latent in bad cooking or poor food; that's a summary of the traveling man's life. The result is "stomach trouble," that general term which covers various forms and stages of disease of the organs of digestion and nutrition. The traveling man can't avoid the troubles which spring from his business obligations. But he can avoid "stomach trouble." If Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is used when the early symptoms of derangement of the stomach manifest themselves, the cure will be quick and radical. But even if the disease has become chronic the "Discovery" will cure ninety-eight times out of every hundred if tried fairly and faithfully.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Broadway, St. Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at R. P. Keith's Bijou theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Free! Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps, to cover expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the same book cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THOUSANDS

Read the Bulletins.

Great Crowd In Front of Democrat Office.

Pleased With the Splendid Service.

Remained Until Result Was no Longer In Doubt.

News Was Posted Exactly as Received—Extra Editions Issued.

Ten thousand people read the bulletins posted by the Daily Democrat Tuesday evening. Main st. was crowded with interested voters.

The crowd was about equally divided in sentiment. The Democrats had but few opportunities to make themselves heard but they were there every time a bulletin announcing a gain for Bryan was flashed upon the canvas.

The service furnished by the Democrat has never been surpassed in this city. The news was given just as it was received. It was the purpose of the Democrat to furnish prompt and reliable election information to both Democrats and Republicans. How well it succeeded in this was shown by the great crowd which stood for several hours in front of the office.

The Beacon-Journal attempted to post bulletins in the same manner but early in the evening it was evident that the Democrat had the people and at no time did the Beacon have more than a few hundred voters in front of its office. At the Central Union Telephone Company office there was a large crowd. The service furnished at this place was first class. The people remained in front of the Democrat office until the result was no longer in doubt. It was evident by 10 o'clock that there was no chance for Mr. Bryan to be elected. The Republicans then started out to jolly and the Democrats for their homes.

At an early hour extras were issued by both the Democrat and Beacon giving accurate and complete returns from both the county and nation. The Democrat extra was the first to be issued being on the street some time ahead of the Beacon. Two hours after the local papers appeared on the street the midnight edition of the Cleveland papers reached Akron. Nothing was to be found in them that had not been bulletined in Akron by the Democrat hours before the Cleveland papers went to press. It was not necessary for local citizens to purchase out of town papers to get the news.

In its extra, the Beacon announced that the people were practically all era office was largely a partisan one, that the people were practically all Bryan supporters and that there were but few Republicans there. If this is true, there must have been several thousand Democrats who neglected to vote. It is certain that there were enough voters reading the Democrat's bulletin to have carried the city for Mr. Bryan and the entire county ticket. It was a splendid compliment to the enterprise of the Democrat.

The excellence of the views and election returns shown by the Democrat last night was contributed to in a large degree by the courtesy of Mr. O'Neill and the Northern Ohio Traction company, in extinguishing the arc lights in front of the O'Neill company's store and the street light in front of the Democrat office. The Democrat extends thanks to them for their kindness.

The optical lantern used is the property of Attorney John C. Frank, and was fitted with a brilliant arc light which worked with perfect success during the entire evening, throwing the pictures and returns with great distinctness on the screen, enabling the crowd to read them with ease across the street. Mr. Frank has our thanks for furnishing us with so good

CATARRH OF THE LIVER.

Every Organ of the Human Body Liable to Catarrh.

Mrs. Nettie Lind.

Mrs. Nettie Lind, graduated nurse of the Royal State School, Copenhagen, Denmark, writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman from Chicago. Mrs. Lind says: "I am very pleased to testify to the merits of Per-na. I have watched its results when prescribed to patients under my care, especially in the different catarrhal troubles, and must say the results were most satisfactory. I therefore have great faith in Per-na."

Mrs. S. E. Robbins, White Wright, Texas, says: "I have been having colic at times and I get very yellow, and am confined to my bed a great deal of the time. Last spring I got so bad that I was in bed most of the time for several weeks. I had colic, sick stomach and nervous chills every six or seven days. Finally, when I heard of Per-na and Man-a-lin I had eaten nothing for several days and was under the doctor's treatment. I quit taking his medicine and began to take Per-na and Man-a-lin. I gained twenty-five pounds, and can now eat anything I want without inconvenience. My skin is perfectly clear—no sign of jaundice. Mrs. S. E. Robbins."

Mrs. C. T. Rogers, of Elgin, Ill., writes: "Your medicine saved my baby, who had jaundice and catarrh of the liver." Catarrh of the liver is due to derangements of the organs intimately connected with digestion, either the stomach, liver, pancreas or bowels. When the liver is the principal cause there is a pain and heaviness in the right side, great irregularity of the bowels, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, furred tongue, loss of appetite, bloating after meals, gloomy, despondent feelings, yellowness of the skin and belching up gas.

Bilious colic or gall stones are frequently the result of catarrh of the liver. It also produces a condition closely resembling chronic malaria. All these troubles are quickly cured by Per-na. A short course of Per-na will do more to set right the digestive organs than all other remedies known to man. Per-na is sure to produce a vigorous appetite and regular digestion. All bilious diseases disappear when Per-na is used. There are no substitutes for Per-na. For a free book address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.
